SOCIETY EDITOR.

Never in the history of local society has any event been planned as elaborately as the garden fete to be given for the benefit of the Country club on the evening of May 16 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers. It is to be a novel and unusually delightful entertainment with a number of "surprises" just around the corner. A stage will be erected under the big cottonwood and by the light of the moon and unseen electrical effects the spectacular act will be given. The leading parts will be taken by Mrs. Ernest Bennett and Arthur Halm and others in the cast will include Mrs. Daniel Francis, Irvin De R Miller and Sidney J. Ross. Different groups will be introduced during the forty-five minute performance including the Merry Villagers in charge of Mrs. E. T. Collins and the minstrels led by Mrs. Charles McArthur. There will be numerous side attractions and a dance will hold forth in the gymnasium. There will be a refreshment booth and many other features arranged about the lovely gardens.

Mrs. F. E. Marshall gave an attractively arranged bridge Friday afternoon at Ingleside. The card tables were arranged in Mrs. Marshall's charming cottage and tea was served at the club house. Thirty-five guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shedd and Mrs. May Walker gave an informal affair Tuesday evening at the Shedd residence on North Third street. Sapolo was the diversion and the prizes were won by Miss Hoagland and Ernest Crum.

There were present Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Allen, Judge and Mrs. C. F. Ainsworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rowlands, Mrs. Homer King, Mrs. E. T. Collins, Mrs. S. E. Coats, Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers, Mrs. J. G. Van Leuwen, Mrs. Edwin Earl Nash, Mrs. John Van der Veen, Mrs. Pen Hildreth, Mrs. George Olney, Mrs. Fred Woolsey, Mrs. Daniel Francis, Miss Ruth Ainsworth, Miss Knapp and Miss McCallish.

The Elks will give a dance at the Woman's club on Friday evening.

In honor of her sister, Miss Edith Fulwiler whose marriage to Thomas Christopher will take place shortly, Miss Nan Fulwiler gave an attractive affair Thursday at her home on Grand Avenue. There were present Mrs. Harold Singer, Mrs. W. D. Fulwiler, Miss Carol Hough, Miss Harriet McGill, Miss Edith Fulwiler, Miss Marietta Norton, Miss Jessie Pinkston, Miss Anna Miller, Miss Alice Finkley, Miss Margaret Fulwiler, Miss Marie Hendricks and Miss Mary Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Redewill are passing the week end at Camp Creek.

The dinner dance given by the Utopia club at the Woman's club Friday evening was one of the most delightful of the season. This was the last of a series of six affairs given by the popular organization this year and was unquestionably the most enjoyable. The large U-shaped table was decorated in a graceful arrangement of roses and sweet peas while the auditorium was decorated with pepper boughs and oleander branches with unusually pretty effect. The Besse orchestra furnished an attractive dance program. Many out-of-town members were present at the closing event, the guest list including Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Wheeler, Miss Beatrice Pales, Miss Francis Geare, Miss Edith Londergan, Miss Ellen Humphreys, Miss Helen Jackson, Miss Celestine Phillips, Miss Myrtle Kilpatrick, Miss Blaise Humphreys, Miss Harriett McGill, Miss Louise Gass, Miss Louise Cross, Miss Selma Geyer, Miss Dorothy Dyrkin, Miss Bertha Throm, Miss Florence Varnum, Miss Irene Sidell, Miss Mattie Steele, Miss Florence Faust, Miss Mable Geare, Miss Rae Beauchamp, Miss Anna Agner, Miss Francis Long, Miss Louise Geier, Miss Margaret Lynch, Miss Elsie Truman, Miss Virginia Graves, Miss Carmelita Ward, Miss Lynn Hisebeck, Miss Beatrice Metten, Miss Laura Andrews, Miss Mary Armstrong, Miss Maude Dunlap, Miss Eva Stewart, Miss Catherine Campbell, Miss Georgia Dunlap, Miss Grace Welch, Miss Effie Irvin, George F. Allen, Walter August, Louis Bohn, Lloyd L. Brass, E. Carter, R. S. Dorris, H. E. Geare, L. S. Henderson, Carl Hoover, T. C. Geare, Edwin Harington, Clinton Jackson, Paul Jones, J. B. Geare, J. H. Little, Ed Luke, W. Y. Mills, D. A. Little, W. A. Newman, J. L. Mills, George Peters, Smith Pickrell, C. W. Mills, B. L. Rudderow, James Ryan, Henry Snyder, Glenn Stevens, M. B. Sundidge, Muford Smith, Roy Smith, G. A. Snodgrass, Al Trippell, Morris Valentine, J. C. Wenger, Sidney Gassman and Thomas Houghton.

Mrs. M. E. Morin of 1115 North Second street gave a series of bridge-luncheons last week entertaining eight tables on Thursday and Friday. On both occasions a pink color scheme was used and was effectively carried out in an abundance of Dorothy Perkins roses. The prize winners at the initial affair were Mrs. F. A. Trille, Mrs. Harry Clifford Gibbons and Mrs. A. H. DeMund of Yuma on the following day the highest scores were made by Mrs. Selim J. Michelson, Mrs. James Griffen and Mrs. L. D. Dammeron.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rowlands and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Page will give a dance at the Woman's club Tuesday evening.

G. R. A. Gilchrist who wintered here left Friday evening for his home in Wheeling, West Virginia. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Stanton and little daughter, Miss Virginia Stanton who will be his guests during the summer season.

Miss Flora Grier gave one of the most delightful events of Easter week Thursday when she gave an attractively arranged bridge in honor of her sister, Mrs. Marion Kays. The Grier residence on West Adams street was decorated in a pink and white color scheme carried out in a profusion of lovely roses. The card prizes were won by Mrs. Lyman Bennett and Mrs. Clay Parker. Mrs. Alma Lowe and a group of charming members of the Junior set, including Miss Mary Alice Christy, Miss Jane Christy and Miss Mary Louise Pinney assisted the hostess. Asked to meet the guest of honor were: Mrs. Ned Creighton, Mrs. Eugene Redewill, Mrs. Robert A. Craig, Mrs. Gene Cunningham, Mrs. E. J. Elliot, Mrs. George H. Lutterding, Mrs. Donald McQueen, Mrs. Charles Stauffer, Mrs. Fred Christy, Mrs. Melville Pickas, Mrs. Charles Munger, Mrs. Webb Griffen, Mrs. Fred Greer, Mrs. Roy Parsons, Mrs. Harold C. Bennett, Mrs. George Christy, Mrs. William Bertram, Mrs. Gus Noll, Mrs. Charles Smurthwaite, Mrs. Edwin Malcolm Hull, Mrs. Arthur Lohrs, Mrs. N. E. Cole, Mrs. Roy Nichols, Mrs. P. Hart, Mrs. Roy S. Goodrich, Mrs. Harold Baxter, Mrs. Ernest Bennett, Mrs. Charles Islam, Mrs. William L. Pinney, Mrs. Ralph Murphy, Mrs. Harry Galliver, Miss Alta Holmes, Miss Fay De Mund, Miss Ann Garnett, Miss Ruth St. Claire, Miss Louise Lynd, Miss Lulu Eyer, Miss Kate Wilson, and Katherine Christy.

Mrs. Emil Ganz presided over a charmingly arranged luncheon Thursday at her home on North Central avenue. A pink and gold color scheme was employed with artistic effect. At a table was a basket of gorgeous yellow peonies, while at the smaller tables were baskets filled with fragrant pink sweet peas. Tiny yellow birds held the place cards, that were also suggestive of the Easter season. During the luncheon, Mrs. Adolph Liebenow, pianist, and her talented little daughter, Miss Edith Liebenow, violinist, furnished a delightful program of new and old songs. Bridge was the feature of the afternoon, the prize winners being Mrs. Richard E. Sloan, Mrs. S. E. Coats and Mrs. Joseph Shierburne Jenckes.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber were dinner hosts Wednesday evening, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Charles McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Warren McArthur, Mrs. Margaret Tredway and Harry Trille.

Miss Fay De Mund will give a luncheon Tuesday complimentary to Miss Emma Lohrs whose marriage to Dr. Reginald Stroud will be an event of June.

Mrs. Marion Kays was the guest of honor at an informal bridge given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. William L. Pinney at her home on West Adams street. Spring flowers decorated effectively and the occasion was one of the most delightful of the many affairs that have been given in compliment to Mrs. Kays.

Mrs. Ralph Cameron entertained five tables of bridge Tuesday afternoon at her Willetta street residence. In the dining room a yellow color scheme was carried out in nasturtiums, while in the living room lavender and pink sweet peas prevailed. The highest scores were made by Mrs. Tom Campbell and Mrs. Herbert Parsons.

Mrs. Herman Perry De Mund gave a prettily appointed luncheon Wednesday, the Easter suggestion being carried out in the novel use of desert flowers. Graceful clusters of Palo Verde formed the dominant note of the decorative scheme and the miniature rabbits added to the effect. Eight tables were present and the bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Daniel Francis and Mrs. E. E. Kirkland.

The dance at the Country club Tuesday evening was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Goldwater, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Goldberg, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Warren McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Cass Redewill, Mrs. David Goldberg, Mrs. Ernest Bennett, Miss Rose Walter, Miss

Los Angeles—the stronghold of suffrage—the banner woman's club city of the United States did not rise to the occasion when swooped down upon by the twenty-three eastern envoys of the Congressional Union who recently visited here. According to the coast papers and the associated press reports, less than one hundred attended the banquet arranged by their "advance woman." In noting the presence of the suffragists in Los Angeles the Evening Herald comments upon the fact that only one or two local suffragists met the party. The article continues in part:

The suffragists expressed surprise at the stand taken yesterday by the Friday Morning club of this city which passed resolutions urging California women to eschew the coast reports, less than one hundred attended the banquet arranged by their "advance woman." In noting the presence of the suffragists in Los Angeles the Evening Herald comments upon the fact that only one or two local suffragists met the party. The article continues in part:

The action of the Friday Morning club was described by the suffrage tourists as the "first slap" they have received on their trip across the continent.

While in Phoenix one of the leaders of the party declared that the "first slap" had been administered here when a prominent state official in greeting the women remarked that in his opinion suffrage should be granted state by state. It is understood his statement may have influenced the women in abandoning the street campaign they had planned, and the only opportunity Phoenix had to hear the cause was at the suffrage luncheon at the Adams. A representative gathering was present though it was noticeable that the leaders of the club and suffrage movement were not present. Mrs. Eugene Brady O'Neill, organizer of the Civic League and chairman of the Arizona Equal Suffrage League during the suffrage campaign was among this number. Mrs. O'Neill is opposed to the militant methods of the Union. The Los Angeles Times in reporting the meeting features the spirit of militancy. It says in part: how the enfranchised women of the East plan to use the votes of their more favored sisters in the West, as a menace to the success of the Democratic party at the polls this year, if the Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment, enfranchising women, is not acted upon favorably at the present session of Congress, were told, etc., etc.

The Fillmore Parent Teacher Association at its meeting Thursday passed a resolution which will be formally presented to the board of managers of the state Congress of Mothers asking that organization to interest itself in having the Bible read in the public schools. The association advocating the movement is in favor of a non-sectarian use of the Bible, free from all discussion of creed. The resolution follows:

Elizabeth Goldwater, Miss Selma Goldwater, Miss Rose Bell Goldman, Miss Margaret Tredway, Miss Harriet Huxley, Lester Byron, Paul Bennett, Arthur Halm, William A. Horrell and Eugene Goldman.

Mrs. George Merryman made Miss Emma Lohrs the incentive for a delightful card affair Saturday at the Woman's club. Cecil Bruner roses and sweet peas combined in carrying out an unusually pretty decoration of pink and white. Hearts was the diversion of the afternoon. The hostess and guest of honor were assisted in receiving by Mrs. George H. N. Lohrs, Mrs. Edward Elsie, Mrs. George A. Smith and Mrs. Fred Gregg. The guest list included the unmarried girl friends of the popular bride elect and numbered forty.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laveen of North Fourteenth street were dinner hosts Sunday complimentary to Miss Agnes Laveen who left the following day for Colorado Springs, British Columbia and the northern states. The rooms were prettily decorated in sweet peas and spring flowers. Ten guests were present.

Mrs. Howard Reed and her son Chapman Reed arrived Wednesday from Boston and were the guests of Mrs. Isaac Taft Stoddard for several days. They are now domiciled in their First Avenue residence.

One of the pleasant affairs of the week was a picnic at Paradise Valley Sunday evening. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Warren McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McArthur, Miss Rose Walter, Miss Margaret Tredway, John Rinker Kibbey and William A. Horrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber had as dinner guests Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rowlands, Mr. and Mrs. Foster H. Rockwell and Joe Cassou.

Miss Ruby Pascoe who passed the Easter vacation period at home returned to Cummock school Tuesday. She will be in Los Angeles until summer.

Mrs. George Geare who wintered with her daughter, Mrs. John Dennett, Jr., will leave May 15 for her home in Pasadena.

Miss Rose Walter will leave Tuesday for Los Angeles going later to Lake Tahoe for the remainder of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. DeMund are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Perry De Mund.

Mrs. Perry Williams of Maricopa was in town for several days in which she was extensively feted.

Whereas: The use of the Bible in the public schools is prohibited by law in the state of Arizona, and

Whereas: The spiritual development of public school children is hampered by this prohibition and their entire education rendered less complete, and

Whereas: The spiritual factors which form character are the most important influences in training our children for future usefulness whether as parents or citizens,

Therefore: Be it resolved by the teachers and mothers of the Fillmore Parent-Teachers Association that the Arizona Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers Associations be asked to interest itself in this matter and to request each association to include an afternoon's discussion upon this subject in its program for next year, and believing that a majority of the associations will agree with us that a non-sectarian use of the Bible, free from all discussions of creed, is a desirable thing for our children in their school exercises, therefore be it further resolved, that the Arizona Congress of Mothers and Parent Teachers Associations, through their executive board should take steps to bring about the repeal of the law which forbids the use of the Bible in our public schools.

After the discussion of the "Bible in the Schools," the association held its annual election, Mrs. Thomas Kavanaugh being chosen president, Miss Dulle Oglesby vice president, Mrs. A. E. Woodward, secretary and Miss Mary Snieser treasurer. This closed the regular meetings for the year although there will be one more meeting at which the members will entertain the children of the school.

The Musicians' club will hold its last meeting for the year tomorrow afternoon at the Woman's club. The board requests that all active members be present as there are several important questions to be discussed.

"It has been the aim of the club to raise the standard each year," said Mrs. Arthur Gibbons Hulett, president of the club yesterday. "To this end the board will submit suggestions, namely: that all meetings be held to promote more interest and that the active members be divided into two classes, active and student. A choral section will also be advocated at this time. I hope that there will be a large attendance and that the members will come prepared to state their views of the subject. We want general discussion on these matters that will have a direct bearing on the club next season."

The final program will be presented at three o'clock under the direction of Miss Bertha Kirkland, chairman. It follows:

Current events—Miss Bertha Kirkland.

Vocal duet, "Carmen," H. Lane Wilson—Miss Mable Crumby, Miss Mary Leavell.

Piano, Rondo A Capriccioso, Ludwig von Beethoven—Mrs. Harold Baxter.

Voice, "A China Tragedy," Clayton Thomas; "Philosophy," David Emmell; "Three Little Chestnuts," N. Clifford Page—Mrs. R. M. Tafel.

Voice, "Humoresque," Dvoisk—Miss Edith Liebenow.

Piano, "The Dancing Doll," Poldini; "Pompadour's Fan," Cadman—Miss Myrtle Lines.

Voice, "Laugh and the World Laughs With You," John Leechman; "The Year's at the Spring," William Blair—Mrs. W. Galen Burris.

Reading, "Two Lullabies"—Mrs. Franklin McCluskey.

Piano Duo, "Carnival Waltz," Chamblaine—Mrs. W. E. Defty, Mrs. W. R. Wayland.

Accompanists, Miss Frances Elliot, Mrs. Adolph Liebenow, Mrs. W. Raymond Batin, Miss Merta Work.

The Madison Improvement club will hold its last meeting of the year on Thursday afternoon, the program to be presented by the art and literature department of which Mrs. Charles Keaps is chairman and the music department, Mrs. Ed Shaw chairman. The numbers have been well arranged and there is every evidence that the attendance will include the complete membership.

Mrs. John Dennett, Jr. will call a special meeting of the executive board of the Woman's club shortly for the completion of left over business.

The Civic League, Mrs. Eugene Brady O'Neill president, will close its season May 31. There will be a meeting of the executive board early in June when the coming year's program will be taken under consideration. This week the League in recognition to Governor Hunt's proclamation to observe Bird Day, will give a program on this subject Wednesday afternoon. Miss Lucy Terrill Ellis will lead the discussion.

The Conservation club will hold its final meeting of the year Monday, May 8.

Twenty thousand of the nation's club women will journey to New York next month for the thirteenth convention of the general federation of clubs. The representation of 2,500,000 women through 9,000 clubs and eleven national organizations is bound to create untold enthusiasm and dictate the wisest judgment and action of womanhood.

Through authoritative information, it is learned that nearly every one of the clubs will send delegates and many of them alternates as well. Besides these, there will be about 15,000 more visitors, all of whom will be met at trains or boats on arrival, by the local Transportation Committee, which has detailed a sub-committee at each station, with Boy Scouts as escorts for the travelers.

For the assembling of the women clans the Seventh Regiment Armory, big and gray, will change its front and purpose.

In welcome to the guests the club women of New York City and state will arrange a flower market at the entrance, that all visitors who enter the portals of the transformed armory will be greeted by those "smiles of God."

The European war, the shadow thrown by Japan, the border warfare on the south, possibly the impending political conventions which will determine who shall be the next president of the United States are to be considered. Certainly the probabilities and means of securing national suffrage for women, conservation of forests and other landscape beauty and utility, public health, home economics, art, literature will be frankly discussed. The position of the women's clubs in this country concerning these measures will be candidly defined.

While much business will be transacted, the great rally of women will have its charming social aspect. The New Jersey Federation of Women's Clubs will entertain five hundred of the visitors. On the day of this journey to Jersey Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Edison will receive them at their home and arrange for a reception to the visitors at the Metropolitan Museum of Fine Arts. Mrs. Hammond will also entertain the presidents of all the state clubs at a luncheon.

Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the president, will be the guest of honor at an evening session of the convention. The Colonial Dames of New York will give a reception to visiting Colonial Dames.

The Board of Trade of Motion Pictures, the patrons and the makers of the pictures will all be heard, each to reveal, according to his own lights, how the cinema may serve both business and public interest. There will be between sessions excursions to Coney Island and one after the convention to Canada.

For the discussion of themes of general interest distinguished speakers have been secured. Chancellor Elmer E. Brown, president of New York University, will give an address on "Some Modern Tendencies in Education."

John Finley, Commissioner of Education of the state of New York, will speak of "Education in Citizenship." Edwin Markham will present his view of "Educational Value of Poetry." Dr. John Lovejoy Elliott will interest the audience in "The Children's Magna Charta."

Thomas M. Osborne will try to solve the problem of "Practical Education in Penal Institutions." William Wirt will speak a last word on the Gary System.

There will be discussion of "Rural School Problems," led by Mrs. Susie Powell. The subject of feeble-mindedness will receive the attention of an afternoon conference.

The president of the University of Minnesota, will give a practical discourse on "Economics in the Home."

The health of the visitors will be safeguarded. To that end a Red Cross station, with a full surgical equipment, will be established at the armory, with nurses in attendance.

The Polyclinic hospital will provide a similar station at the Hotel Astor, which, with the Seventh Regiment Armory, will be the meeting place of the club women.

The complete program will appear in next Sunday's issue of The Republican.

The Friday club held its final meeting for the year last week, Mrs. E. A. (Continued on Page Two)
